

Keeping a Lid on It — Loose Lids Sink Bids

(or “Welcome to the Ex-Parte”)

By Nathan D. Dawson, Procurement Manager

We all know one of the primary goals of any procurement is to obtain the goods and/or services you’re soliciting at the best possible price. In order to achieve that goal, a diligent procurement officer advertises their solicitation as far and wide as possible so as to increase competition. However, increasing the number of potential bidders on a solicitation also increases the likelihood those vendors are going to reach out to your end users to get more information about the procurement or, in some extreme cases, try and influence the award.

Such ex-parte communications can be detrimental to your procurement. If there is even a perception that some vendors have more/better information than others, the integrity of your entity’s procurement processes can be irrevocably damaged. And if vendors don’t have faith the process is fair and unbiased, they may be discouraged from bidding on future solicitations. Having one point of contact for vendors throughout the procurement process is crucial to ensuring you control what information is being disseminated in relation to your solicitation, and for guaranteeing all potential bidders have the same information as each other - no one vendor should be unduly advantage or disadvantaged.

One of the easiest ways to combat the problem of inappropriate communication is to expressly address it in your solicitation. Clause [02-2A087-1] can be found in the Division of Procurement Services’ Procurement Compendium:

PROHIBITED COMMUNICATIONS AND DONATIONS (FEB 2015)

Violation of these restrictions may result in disqualification of your offer, suspension, or debarment, and may constitute a violation of law.

(a) During the period between publication of the solicitation and final award, you must not communicate, directly or indirectly, with the Using Governmental Unit or its employees, agents or officials regarding any aspect of this procurement activity, unless otherwise approved in writing by the Procurement Officer. All communications must be solely with the Procurement Officer. [R. 19-445.2010]

( <https://www.procurement.sc.gov/files/2.0.2%20PUBLISH.pdf> )

The Compendium Guidance on Use of this clause is that it is mandatory for all solicitations. Including this clause in your solicitation puts vendors on notice that they cannot engage in prohibited communications, and sets out the potential consequences if they do so.

The clause references Regulation 19-445-2010, which sets out the procedures for the disclosure of procurement information. Subparagraph B of that regulation directs state personnel involved in an acquisition to “forward or refer all requests for information regarding the procurement to the responsible procurement officer.” (<https://casetext.com/regulation/south-carolina-code-of-regulations/chapter-19-state-budget-and-control-board/article-4-office-of-general-services/section-19-4452010-disclosure-of-procurement-information>). “State personnel” includes your end users, panel members, and subject matter experts. Therefore, either include this Regulation in your charging meeting script, or make a point of discussing it with your end users when they first approach you with their requisition request. That way they are also aware such conduct is contrary to the procurement rules, discouraging them from providing information to vendors when they are contacted.

Prohibiting improper communications helps maintain the integrity of your procurement processes and, in turn, your entity’s reputation among the vendor community. Addressing the issue proactively with both vendors and your entity’s personnel may not completely stop vendors from reaching out to people within your organization, but it should minimize the amount of contact made and (hopefully) prevent any prohibited communications from occurring.

Think Pink. We did. Tuesday our team recognized October as Breast Cancer Awareness Month. According to the American Cancer Society, breast cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death in women. (Only lung cancer kills more women each year.) The chance that a woman will die from breast cancer is about 1 in 39 (about 2.6%).

Since 2007, breast cancer death rates have been steady in women younger than 50, but have continued to decrease in older women. From 2013 to 2018, the death rate went down by 1% per year.

These decreases are believed to be the result of finding breast cancer earlier through screening and increased awareness, as well as better treatments.

Statewide Term Contract Product Availability: Shipping Delays and Pricing

By Michael Speakmon, CPPO

You may have noticed by now that there is some disruption in “some” of the markets affecting product availability on some Statewide Term Contracts (STCs). Well, let us assure you that is not the case; in actuality, there are disruptions in ALL the markets affecting STCs and beyond. Here at SFAA DPS we’re not seeing too much interference in the IT world, but the goods and services world is pretty much upside down now and that’s affecting everything.

We hear stories about container ships piling up off the coasts of the U.S. (100 outside of Los Angeles at the time of this writing), a shortage of qualified truck drivers for getting what products are unloaded across the country, policies in some states which limit the number of trucks on the road, delivery lead times 180 days or longer, and vehicle vendors unable to take orders due to erratic part manufacturers’ production schedules.

Chip shortages are affecting many industries, but especially vehicle manufacturing (some models have up to 400 chips per vehicle). Steel and other metal shortages are directly affecting several South Carolina State Government STCs: traffic signal heads, pedestrian signal heads, and concrete culvert pipes are just a few examples. Overseas COVID restrictions inhibit manufacturing parts we need for our products. Weather in Southeast Asia wrought havoc on the output of thousands of small rubber tree farms, which is impacting the rubber supply for tires, hoses and other materials for vehicle manufacturing and replacement parts. We’re still feeling the effects of the six-day Suez Canal blockage back in March 2021, and everyday there are new reports of shortages, outages, and empty store shelves.

The bottom line is that this is what happens when you disrupt the global supply chain for almost a year and cease manufacturing and production for just as long in many markets. Some experts say that it will be long into CY2022 before we get better, others say longer than that. So, what does all this mean to you and purchasing off our STCs? A lot, actually.

We are receiving notices from contractors almost daily that their costs have increased so much, and so quickly, that they cannot maintain their contract pricing. We’re working with all of them as best we can once they contact us, but not all of them are contacting us, and some are just refusing to accept orders. If that happens to you, here is what you need to do:

- Tell the vendor to contact our office immediately so that we can begin having that conversation with them. Just in case, you can notify us as well so we can reach out to them.
- Do not argue with them if they refuse to accept a purchase order. Many of our contractors are just as confused as we are, and this may be a mechanism to keep them from overextending their ability to perform. Again, have them contact us.
- Many vendors are increasing their prices and may not understand that they cannot do that without our consent. If a Contractor gives you a price that doesn’t match what is on contract, contact us ASAP and we’ll investigate it.
- Some Contractors think that they need to cancel their contracts because they cannot accept purchase orders and they will tell you “we cancelled that contract” which may not be true. If a contract is cancelled, we will communicate that from our office, but the vendor may think it’s cancelled because they don’t want to perform anymore. If a Contractor tells you that, have them contact us immediately and we’ll work with them.

During this time, our advice to everyone is:

- Be patient with the vendors. They are trying hard to do the best they can given the ever-changing circumstances.
- Expect delays in order acceptance and delivery, even after a delivery date is given. Transportation, especially ground transportation, is suffering right now with no anticipated relief in sight.
- If a vendor turns down a PO at this time, they are NOT in default on the contract. We cannot make the vendors provide something they cannot get, so please do not tell them they are in default if they don’t accept a PO. Notify our office and we’ll investigate.

Statewide Contract News

SPECIAL NOTICE

NASPO Auto Parts Contracts Extended – Again

NASPO has extended the light duty auto parts contracts that were expiring on October 19, 2021, until January 17, 2022. At the time of this writing, DeAna Reed-Sharpe is working with our NASPO vendors to extend the existing contracts, which will be completed at the time of publication.

Disposable Food Tray Contracts – Terminated

Both contracts for Disposable Food Trays were terminated as of October 6, 2021. Based on several factors, including lower than estimated usage and the contractor's ability to secure pricing, it was not possible to continue the contracts with the pricing and availability of the specific items on contract. Currently, there is no intent for our office to solicit for these items until such time that a justifiable demand is established across the state. Questions may be directed to Portia Davis at pdavis@mmo.sc.gov.

STC Deliverable-based IT Consulting & Professional Services -- We anticipate publishing a new statewide solicitation for deliverable-based IT consulting and professional services in late October or early November. The intent is that the contracts awarded pursuant to this solicitation will eventually replace the contracts awarded pursuant to STC Third Party Consulting (Solicitation 5400015645).

Market Research and Agency Input Requests for NEW State Term Contracts (STC)

The Office of State Procurement (OSP) is seeking input on the following recommendations for new State Term Contracts (STCS). If you have any information you can share, please contact the appropriate procurement manager. Our goal is to put contracts in place that will meet your needs, but we need your input to ensure success.

Telematics (Fleet Monitoring) – Will Butler (wbutler@mmo.sc.gov) is requesting fleet-size data from all potential users of the upcoming STC for aftermarket telematics solutions for vehicles, “yellow iron” powered assets, and non-powered assets. Please include specific information about your fleet if available, such as breakdowns by vehicle type and what proportion is leased/ owned. Please email Will Butler with information about your fleet management needs as quickly as possible or to let him know if you would like to serve as an evaluation panel member.

Propane – Michael Speakmon has received some sample solicitations and contracts in response to last month's notice about this potential contract, but we could really use more in order to establish sufficient demand. Let us know how you currently procure this resource and if this would be a helpful STC for your entity. (mspeakmon@mmo.sc.gov)

Emergency Restoration Services – Don't miss your chance to contribute to the formation of a new state term contract that could greatly benefit your entity during/after an emergency. Services could include fire damage restoration, water damage remediation, mold remediation, associated equipment rental, and specialty services. If you currently have this type of agreement in place, we'd love to see your scopes of works/contracts. If you anticipate a need/use of this type of agreement, we'd love to hear what you would like included. Please contact Ellicia Howard at ehoward@mmo.sc.gov with your contact information and any supporting documents you might have.

Procurement Professionals, please reach out to your Information Technology Department with the following market research request updates:

The market research for creating new STCs for the contracts listed below has been completed and the OSP will be publishing solicitations in 2022. Thank you for all the feedback we received in helping us make this decision. If you have any questions, please contact Randy Barr (rbarr@mmo.sc.gov).

CradlePoint, VM Ware, Varonis

As with all requests, we would appreciate specifications, usage data, lessons learned through existing contracts, and any other information your IT Professionals, Facilities Directors, or appropriate End Users could share when we are conducting market research.

Market Research and Agency Input Requests for EXISTING State Term Contracts

Existing Goods & Services STCs that need your input:

Traffic Signal Controllers (Expires 4/4/2022) – Portia Davis (pdavis@mmo.sc.gov) is continuing her research into the next iteration of this contract. Industrial Gases – Cylinder Exchange (Expires 4/30/2022) – DeAna Reed-Sharpe (drsharpe@mmo.sc.gov) is continuing her research into the next version of this contract. She would like to know if there are some gasses that are being used on a regular basis that we can add to the list of gasses that are specifically priced to get a better price? Are there gasses that are somehow not covered by the contract that we need to look at? If so, please contact DeAna ASAP.

LIDAR and RADAR (Expires 5/24/2022) – Portia Davis (pdavis@mmo.sc.gov) is responsible for this contract. Please let us know if you need assistance with those efforts.

E10 Ethanol Blended Gasoline (Expires 7/10/2022) – Ellicia Howard (ehoward@mmo.sc.gov) is beginning her analysis into the next iteration of this contract and would appreciate any input that your organization may have. Is it working well for you, or is there an adjustment we could make to better meet your needs?

Meals, Ready-to-Eat – Emergency Supplies (Expires 7/29/2022) – Portia Davis (pdavis@mmo.sc.gov) is beginning to develop the business case for continued contracting for MREs. While it's pretty much a no brainer that we will continue providing these under contract, now is the time to give your thoughts on the quality of MREs on contract and offer some ideas about what we could do to improve the contract.

Asphalt Emulsion Paving Mixtures – CRS-2, CRS-2P & CMS-2 (Expires 7/31/2022) – DeAna Reed-Sharpe (drsharpe@mmo.sc.gov) is the procurement manager for this one, but the specifications are developed and monitored by DOT. Should you have any input to those specifications please contact DOT and provide them with your input and copy us to the communication. If we can assist in make this connection, please let us know.

Airport Pavement Maintenance and Rejuvenation (Expires 8/21/2022) – Ellicia Howard (ehoward@mmo.sc.gov) is beginning her research into these contracts. It is our intention to combine the separate contracts for rejuvenation and maintenance into one contract as has been the practice in the past. Should you have any recommendations for changes to either of these contracts please contact Ellicia as soon as possible.

Ballasts & Lamps (Expires 9/7/2022) – DeAna Reed-Sharpe (drsharpe@mmo.sc.gov) is very interested in your input for the next version of this contract. There have been many advances in the ballasts and lamps industry since the last time this was processed, and we need to know what your needs are. If your needs are shifting more towards the LED market, we need information, specifications, and feedback on how best to meet this need. Please forward this information to your facilities manager/department so they can contact DeAna as soon as possible with their input.

PLEASE NOTE: State agencies are required to participate in the recovery audit program required by annual proviso (2021/2022 Proviso 117.85). Recovery audits apply only to payments made more than one hundred eighty days prior to the date the audit is initiated and cover at least three complete fiscal years. Not all state agencies are on the same three-year cycle, however, many state agencies completed a recovery audit in 2019 for fiscal years 2016 through 2018 (i.e., July 1, 2015 through June 30, 2018). Therefore, those state agencies should be gearing up to engage a recovery audit firm to complete recovery audits for fiscal years 2019 through 2021 (i.e., July 1, 2018 through June 30, 2021) in 2022. Every state agency is responsible for maintaining their compliance with the proviso requirements so verify the date of your agency's last completed recovery audit and take action as appropriate.

- Ordering windows for some vendors are opening and closing with little notice, and without their control. There is the potential for a PO to be cancelled after acceptance by the vendor if their ordering window closes during processing. That being said, we are working diligently to minimize the occurrence of this.
- Consider putting off projects that are not priorities. We know this can mess with budgeting but there may be times where you just can't get what you need to complete the project.
- Expect price fluctuations for the foreseeable future. We are doing our best to protect our pricing as much as possible, but the markets are constantly fluctuating and that is affecting different Contactor's differently.

We promise you are NOT alone during this time and that our office is here actively working on your behalf. Do not hesitate to contact the Procurement Manager listed for that contract and reach out to them with any questions/ concerns you may have. We will get through this together!
